

A HOUSTON CONFERENCE

on farming, land use, community food security, and local food

FOOD & Sustainable Prosperity

Rising energy and food prices, food safety, climate change - it's a perfect storm of trouble. If sustainability begins with adequate, healthy supplies of air, water, and food, it's clearly time to talk about the prices, source, and quality of Houston's food supply.

Thursday, September 4, 2008 8:30-5:30

The Crystal Ballroom at Rice Lofts 909 Texas Avenue

Early Bird registration deadline August 28

HOST

Gulf Coast Institute

PARTNERS

Texas Sea Grant

Houston-Galveston Area Council

Urban Harvest

SPONSORS

Gulf Coast Economic Development District

Gulf Coast Small Business Finance Corp.

SPONSOR OPPORTUNITIES AVAILABLE
(click)

Let's eat!

Lunch will be served. The chef will discuss the local food that's in it. Reception follows on the balcony.

SPEAKERS

Keynote

John Ikerd, author of Crisis and Opportunity: Sustainability in American Agriculture

Distinguished Luncheon Speaker

US Representative Nick Lampson

Also:

David Crossley, Gulf Coast Institute

John Park, Texas A&M

John Jacob, Texas Sea Grant

Chuck Wemple, Houston-Galveston Area Council

Bob Randall, Gary Edmondson, Urban Harvest

John Krieger, Houston Food Bank

Register now

More info